NEW CANADIAN EDITION!

We are pleased to introduce the New Canadian Edition of the Greenhouse Growers' Directory & Buyers' Guide. This expanded Canadian Edition will put you in touch with floral and vegetable growers, floral wholesalers, vegetable distributors, suppliers and service companies from coast to coast... At your fingertips!

In this improved edition, you will find tools to quickly find the right company:

- Regional Listings

Canadian growers and wholesalers are listed in three new geographical sections: Central, Western and Atlantic Canada.

- Export Logo

Companies exporting to the USA are clearly identified with the dual flag logo, facilitating your selection.

- Alphabetical Indexes

Preceding the listing, the indexes will help you quickly find company names listed alphabetically along with the page numbers of their listing location.

- Product Category Listing Indexes

For your convenience, all products are cross-referenced in the back of the Directory according to their category. Each category contains the name of the company and the page number of their listing location.

Please mention this Directory when contacting or purchasing from these companies.

Flowers Canada Growers Inc. gratefully acknowledges funding provided by Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada through the AgriMarketing Program and the participants of this directory.

MESSAGE FROM THE MINISTER

Canadian greenhouse vegetables and flowers make up a dynamic, innovative industry that drives Canada's economy. Greenhouse growers bring in over $2 billion to the farm gate, and export almost $900 million in safe, high-quality horticultural products to customers around the world.

I'm pleased that the Government of Canada is supporting this new and expanded edition of the Canadian Greenhouse Growers Directory and Buyers' Guide. By showcasing innovation and entrepreneurship, the Guide is helping to put our legendary Canadian quality on the map around the world. Our Government is proud to support this great work through our own international marketing efforts, and our investments in leading-edge science in both the edible and ornamental sectors.

We will certainly continue to help Canada's hardworking horticultural producers compete and prosper here in Canada and around the world. Thanks for your ongoing dedication to excellence, and all the best for another successful year.

Gerry Ritz, P.C., M.P.

Who is Flowers Canada Growers Inc.?

FCG Inc. is the National Association representing floriculture greenhouse producers and industry partners across Canada. We are a grower community that proactively addresses common challenges to our industry. Our mandate is to identify these challenges, clearly communicate them to government and whenever possible implement solutions that benefit both our industry and the Canadian economy. Canadian Floriculture accounts for:

- $1.37 billion in farm gate sales
- $4.65 billion estimated total economic impact
- 22,160 full and part-time employees in floriculture greenhouses

Membership Benefits

- Updates with most current industry news
- Cross border programs to help facilitate trade into the U.S.
- Effective communication of your industry issues to government
- Programs that save you money on a wide range of services
- Grower Own Use Import (GROU)
- Access to knowledgeable staff to help you with industry questions

We manage

- Over $1 million annually in grower applied research
- An innovative and successful Minor Use Pesticide Registration Program with 75% of all pesticides registered processed with the input of FCG staff
- National interests as the representative voice to the Federal Government for Canadian Floriculture Growers, especially with respect to trade and plant health and quarantine. To do this most effectively, we have partnered with CNLA and FIHOQ to form the Canadian Ornamental Horticultural Alliance (COHA) www.coha-acho.ca

Vineland

Research and Innovation Centre

Where Scientific Expertise Meets Commercial Enterprise

The real-world priorities of Canadian horticulture and consumers drive all of Vineland's efforts. We serve these sectors: fruit, vegetable, grape and wine, ornamental, and greenhouse.

A Science Place

Advanced and applied research at Vineland supports long-term industry growth-harnessing changing consumer tastes, environmental issues, and global competition. Consumer testing, sensory research, genomics, plant breeding, and sustainable horticulture come together under our roof.

A Business Place

Vineland's discoveries become commercial applications as fast as possible. We offer business-support services including technology development and licensing, incubation for start-ups, and leasing opportunities for new technologies and companies.

A Destination

Accessible and in the heart of Niagara's horticulture industry, complete with fine facilities and services, Vineland is a natural choice to facilitate conferences and regional meetings. Our team welcomes you.

Greenhouse & Processing Crops Research Centre

Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada's (AAFC) Greenhouse and Processing Crops Research Centre in Harrow, Ontario, which is near the greatest concentration of greenhouse vegetable production in North America, is an internationally recognized centre for greenhouse vegetable research. AAFC's state-of-the-art greenhouse research facilities in Ontario and British Columbia ensure that growers have access to the latest and improved technologies for greenhouse vegetable production.

Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada coordinates research and development nationally. It is focusing on science to improve food safety and environmental quality and to make available innovative products and technologies to enter new markets. Scientists are developing knowledge and mechanisms that will minimize the impact of agricultural production on natural resources while maintaining the sustainability of the sector.

Federal scientists at Harrow are developing new greenhouse technologies for crop management, crop protection and greenhouse environment control. The goal is to improve greenhouse crop production efficiency and marketability using sustainable, environmentally safe production practices. Some new projects this year include integrated systems for the production of organic greenhouse vegetables, dynamic, plant-based environmental control for energy efficiency and a year-round mini-cucumber production system with supplemental lighting. Researchers are also working to update knowledge on invasive diseases as well as reduced-risk materials for control of powdery mildew. Evaluation of the effectiveness of the new biological control agent (Amblyseius swirskii) and oxygenated nutrient solutions to super-saturation levels are also novel components of scientific investigation at the Centre. Research continues toward optimizing energy use and conservation in the greenhouse environment. In addition, Harrow is a field site for conducting greenhouse trials to support minor use, pest management registration submissions.

Commercial greenhouse operators are often involved in various stages of the research to ensure that results can be easily applied to the industry. For example, commercial operations are testing research that uses bee pollinators to deliver bio-control agents for managing insect pests and plant diseases.

It is critical to transfer new technologies and information derived from research to those who can use it. This is accomplished in a variety of ways, including published reports, magazine articles, grower education workshops and presentations at scientific meetings. The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture Food and Rural Affairs (OMAFRA) which is co-located at the Harrow site, has extension personnel for greenhouse vegetable crops who facilitate fast and effective transfer of information and technology to growers.

LEADING THE WAY IN EDUCATION AND RESEARCH FOR HORTICULTURE

Looking for a career in horticulture? Start with one of these programs from the Ontario Agricultural College, a global leader in innovative life sciences education and research for agriculture, food, the environment and rural communities

Diploma Studies:

- ❖ Horticulture
- ❖ Turfgrass Management

Undergraduate Studies:

- BSc(Agriculture)
  - ❖ Crop, Horticulture and Turfgrass Sciences
- BSc
  - ❖ Plant Science

Graduate Studies:

- ❖ Plant Breeding and Genetics
- ❖ Plant Biochemistry and Physiology
- ❖ Plant Production Systems

The University of Guelph's Department of Plant Agriculture provides education and research programs in horticulture through campuses in Guelph, Vineland, and Simcoe, and research stations in Bradford, Elora, Vineland, and Woodstock. The department provides research expertise in many areas including:

- Food production,
- Ornamental plants and turf,
- Breeding programs for improved fruit, vegetable, and ornamental cultivars, expedited by tissue culture and biotechnology techniques,
- Evaluation of new cultivars for commercial production in Ontario ,
- Improved crop management practices,
- Environmental impact of crop production practices,
- Post-harvest physiology and storage.

Associate Diploma in Turfgrass Management (2 years): prepare for a career in golf course management, lawn care, sports, field or parks management, sod production or related businesses. Offered at Guelph campus.

Undergraduate degree programs (4 years): Choose from a variety of majors to learn the science of plant production, whether for food, fibre or urban landscape uses.

Dear Industry Colleagues and Friends:

The Canadian Ornamental Horticulture Alliance (COHA) is a national not-for-profit organization based in Ottawa whose mission is to promote the interests of the ornamental horticulture industry by creating strategic partnerships with the Government of Canada. COHA promotes the interests of its' members by directly engaging elected and non elected officials in a sustained dialogue to help overcome obstacles and create opportunities for our industry to grow and prosper.

The ornamental horticulture industry in Canada represents an economic contribution of $14.5 Billion dollars annually in direct and indirect benefits. This makes it the second-largest production employer in all of Canadian agriculture. Looking at the road ahead, we are working for all those companies big and small who have a vested interest in the future health of our industry. This also means making strategic alliances with other national industry associations, research institutions and universities to make sure that we are always "growing forward" and innovating in all aspects of the value-chain of ornamental horticulture.

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Ornamental Horticulture Alliance we wish to congratulate the publishers of the 2012 Canadian Greenhouse Growers' Directory and Buyers' Guide for making available a truly effective promotional tool that adds value and creates further synergy within our industry.

Very truly yours,

Andrew Kuyvenhoven

Greenhouse Technician (Co-op)

Two Year Diploma Program at the Niagara-on-the-Lake Campus Starting in September or January PLUS paid co-op work experience!

Other available horticultural programs:

- Horticultural Technician (Co-op)
- Landscape Technician (Co-op)
- Landscape Horticulture Techniques (One Year Certificate)

"Caring instructors challenged me to develop the skills, knowledge, and confidence necessary to start my own business. I can't imagine where else I could have gained this level of technical background."

– Chris Buhler, 2006 graduate of Greenhouse Technician (Co-op), owner of Floating Gardens Ltd., Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. Co-winner of the 2007 University of Saskatchewan Bioventure Challenge Award of $50,000.

Graduates will find work at:

- Floriculture and vegetable greenhouses
- Nurseries/Garden Centres
- Horticultural research
- Biological control specialists
- Greenhouse product sales

Experience Hands-on Learning

- On-site experience in modern greenhouses
- Applied research/demonstration projects with industry
- Industry standard IPM system used
- Rootzone monitoring using the latest devices in plant sensing equipment
- Many one day field trips to enhance on-site education
- Three-day trip to Leamington area greenhouses

Our program combines utilization of our 20,000 sq. ft. greenhouse centre, College living labs, College container and field nursery operations, and on-site equipment.

The paid co-op work terms are excellent opportunities to learn and practice in the greenhouse industry.

Cecil Delworth
Foundation

MISSION

The Cecil Delworth Foundation's stated mission is . . . Industry Research and Education.

FOCUS

The primary focus of the Cecil Delworth Foundation is to develop and manage funds for the purposes set out below with emphasis on the practical and immediate problems facing the Industry as a whole, both retailers and growers, as well as the wholesale links which bring the two together. The need for research and for programs in education at all levels of the Industry has been widely recognized. Recent developments in the Canadian Floriculture Industry have required an increased emphasis on research...to maintain the competitive market for the Canadian floriculture producer...through to the retailer...and ultimately delivering competitive quality to the consumer. This is being achieved by re-connecting with the producer to develop a sense of need which translates into specific project developments for the various researchers. The Foundation is excited about serving our Industry's needs in these changing times.

OBJECTIVES OF THE FOUNDATION

The Cecil Delworth Foundation is dedicated to encouraging and supporting research on the culture, marketing, and handling of floriculture crops; and supporting defined floriculture education programs.

WHAT THE FOUNDATION WILL DO FOR YOU . . .

- It will help provide grants for specific studies and to education institutions for specific purposes of importance to the floriculture industry in all fields - production, wholesale and retail.
- By combining the contributions of many in the industry, a fund has been established to carry out studies which no one trade member could finance alone. The results of such research will be available to all in the industry.
- By initiating its own research program, the industry will have convincingly demonstrated to government that it is prepared to do its part. The industry would be then in a much stronger position when seeking further services, research support, or facilities from government sources to carry through its aims and objectives.
- By controlling directly the areas and direction in which studies can be quickly undertaken, the results will come directly to the industry quickly and with the greatest of practical impact.
- By including every aspect of the commercial floriculture industry, the retailer, the grower and the wholesaler will be able to gain more knowledge of production and marketing, better means of handling flowers, and better training of staff.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

The Ontario Greenhouse Alliance (TOGA) works for the common interests of vegetable and flower greenhouse farm production in Ontario. TOGA provides information to governments on the importance of greenhouse agriculture to Ontario's economy, outlining the benefits from jobs, exports, energy generation and contributions to healthy living. TOGA works to ensure public policies will be supportive of a competitive sector. Committed to maintaining Ontario's world class position in greenhouse agriculture, TOGA's vision is "to enhance greenhouse agriculture as a sustainable indoor farming ecosystem and to communicate its benefits to consumers."
