Pick Local.

There are over 327 floriculture greenhouses in Canada. Using state of the art facilities and growing techniques, Canada's floriculture producers ensure their products are delivered fresh to local retail establishments, daily.

Pick Fresh.

Maintaining freshness is easy. When you pick cut flowers and potted plants that have been locally grown, you'll know they are arriving fresh - they haven't traveled very far. You will also be able to enjoy your flowers longer, as local flowers are the freshest available.

Pick Variety.

Canadian greenhouses produce more than 3000 different varieties of cut flowers and potted plants!

Pick Quality.

Canadian growers are considered to be among the best producers in the world; a distinction achieved by employing the latest in technology and growing techniques, and supported by a dedication to excellence.
